See how to improve this property's energy efficiency.

The graph shows this property's current and potential energy rating.

Properties get a rating from A (best) to G (worst) and a score. The better the rating and score, the lower your energy bills are likely to be.

For properties in England and Wales:

the average energy rating is D
the average energy score is 60

Score	Energy rating	Current	Potential
92+	A
81-91	B		83 B

Breakdown of property's energy performance

Features in this property

Features get a rating from very good to very poor, based on how energy efficient they are. Ratings are not based on how well features work or their condition.

Assumed ratings are based on the property's age and type. They are used for features the assessor could not inspect.

Feature	Description	Rating
Wall	Solid brick, with internal insulation	Good
Wall	Solid brick, as built, insulated (assumed)	Very good

You could save £143 per year if you complete the suggested steps for improving this property's energy rating.

This is based on average costs in 2024 when this EPC was created. People living at the property may use different amounts of energy for heating, hot water and lighting.

Heating this property

Estimated energy needed in this property is:

- 13,592 kWh per year for heating
- 3,661 kWh per year for hot water

Properties get a rating from A (best) to G (worst) on how much carbon dioxide (CO₂) they produce each year.

This property produces 4.7 tonnes of CO₂

This property's potential production 3.4 tonnes of CO₂

You could improve this property's CO₂ emissions by making the suggested changes. This will help to protect the environment.

These ratings are based on assumptions about average occupancy and energy use. People living at the property may use different amounts of energy.

Carbon emissions

An average household produces 6 tonnes of CO₂

Changes you could make

Step	Typical installation cost	Typical yearly saving
1. Solar water heating	£4,000 - £6,000	£143
2. Solar photovoltaic panels	£3,500 - £5,500	£572
